►► Features

- Fast testing, more efficiency, can be applied to production site and laboratory.
- Plastic granule, film, floating, seal ring, rubber, calcium carbonate powder can get tested quickly.
- Rubber DIN volume wear loss, Akron wear loss, expansion can be reading directly.
- Function of automatic zero tracking, buzzer warning, and overload warning.
- Function of solution compensation. Either water or other liquid can be used as a measuring medium.
- Adopt the completed high-capacity measurement accessories with the transparent injection moulding sink, which can resist wear, fall off, and corrosion.
- Adopt the completed professional windproof and dustproof cover, which makes the machine convenient and durable

This is one of the densimeter that have been widely applying to industry, using water as medium, the density value can be displayed after two steps. Compared with traditional densimeter, there is no calculation by hand, which is more convenient. With completed injection moulding measuring platform, and the high transparency water tank. The user can inspect the samples in water clearly. The suspension wire made up of 0.5mm stainless steel is perpendicular to nacelle, which would not touch the water tank, therefore accuracy of testing result can be ensured. This also can be applied to metal, powder, ceramics, fireproofing materials, magnetic materials, mechanical parts,

Model	Capacity	Density Resolution
